VILLA TAKES TORREON AFTER DAYS OF BATTLE AN APPALLING LOSS

Dictator Huerta's Last Stronghold in North Central Mexico Was Captured by the Rebel Forces About 10:30 O'Clock Last Night.

BATTLE IN PROGRESS FOR ABOUT TWO WEEKS; HUNDREDS WERE KILLED

Many Prisoners Were Taken by Villa, But Part of the Huerta Garrison Escaped—Villa Pushed His Campaign With a Celerity Hitherto Unknown in Mexican Warfare.

Juarez, Mexico, April 2.—Torreón fell completely into the hands of the rebels at 10:30 o'clock tonight, according to announcement made here tonight by General Venustiano Carranza.

The news first was announced to the world when the bugler in front of Carranza's residence blew the staccato notes of victory. The paeon Carranza said, was sounded here even before it was heard in Torreón, Villa delaying out of compliance to his chief.

Many Prisoners Captured. The mayor bulletined excitedly announcing victory after the bloody series of battles known to modern Mexico said that Villa captured a large number of prisoners and that the fleeing federal remnant was being pursued.

When the rebellion, the federal commander, was captured was not stated. There was heavy fighting all night, it is understood, and the end came when, after capturing the three remaining barracks held in the city by the federalists, the rebels stormed the trenches and broke away entanglements of Canon Del Guacharo.

Trapped in Barracks Taken. The prisoners captured are believed to have been the defenders of the barracks, while the troops were attacking which forms an egress from the hillside city were able to escape.

When General Herrera made his first furious onslaught against the city and captured the hill six days ago, the federalists retained these barracks and General Villa began attacking. Recently it was reported he was about to use dynamite to clear away the houses around the main barracks, so he could use artillery.

It was reported last night that the rebels were attacking the strong federal positions in Canyon Del Guacharo. The campaign against the federal stronghold of Torreón, the main object of the rebel campaign, began suddenly two weeks ago, after General Villa had spent months in making the most careful preparations.

The rebel loss in this campaign is said to be more than 2,000 in killed and wounded. Trains loaded with wounded were being arriving daily at Chihuahua for the last week.

Villa Moved Swiftly. The rebel commander moved with a rapidity hitherto unknown in Mexican warfare. He worked his men in shifts, and as one shift became exhausted he sent fresh troops against the enemy. A number of small towns of lesser importance in a military sense fell first—Maximino, Nue and Saragoromo, where a bloody battle was fought. This opened a path for the main attack.

Next came Lerdo and Gomez Palacio, the latter a suburb of Torreón, and three connected by a belt street car line. Lerdo was not defended, but it took three main assaults, in which the rebels lost heavily, to take Gomez Palacio.

In the final attack on the city troops were withdrawn from Lerdo, whereupon the federalists occupied it and another anguishing conflict was necessary to retake it.

First Back Against Torreón. Last Friday, six days ago, General Monclova, with his own brigade and part of Benavides' Zaratiga brigade of veterans, made the first dash against Torreón. He entered by the east and penetrated to the bull ring north of the center of the town, before he was checked.

ATLANTA'S BUSINESS MEN AND BANKERS ELATED OVER VICTORY IN BATTLE FOR REGIONAL BANK; BIGGEST THING CITY EVER GOT, THEY DECLARE

This telegram was received early last night by E. N. Berrien, Jr., Atlanta correspondent for The Wall Street Journal, New York.

"Atlanta has been awarded a regional bank. District No. 6 includes territory comprising Florida, Georgia, Alabama, east Tennessee, southern Mississippi, and southeastern Louisiana, including New Orleans and the Gulf of Mexico. "Atlanta's business men and bankers are elated over the victory in the battle for a regional bank. It is the biggest thing the city has ever got, they declare."

The fighting spirit of our city and its never-say-die spirit. I have always been proud of it and of all those who had to do with the battle waged for the new bank."

"The entire south will be greatly helped, and the farmer will profit along with the banker and business."

Placed. Captain James W. English, president Fourth National bank: "I never felt any anxiety over the result of the battle for the regional bank."

The bank is the greatest thing the city has ever got. It will be recognized in every financial and business center, and its importance will be given vivid emphasis by the operations of the regional bank."

The selection of Atlanta was wise. It will be of benefit beyond the city to the entire south. Of all the other banks there, I know of no other choice that was more logical."

Tribute to Atlanta Spirit. Asa G. Candler, president Central Bank and Trust corporation: "Atlanta is the greatest thing the city has ever got. It is the biggest thing the city has ever got. In her letter, which is addressed "To my friends and the public generally," Mrs. Jones writes:

"Let the nation know, and especially let my friend, General Francisco Villa, know that the great United States of America, which is demanding of him that he release the traitor he has placed under arrest, is now holding 'Mother' Jones incommunicado in an underground cell, surrounded with sewer rats, tinhorn soldiers and other vermin."

said that eleven cities had at that time been selected by the federal reserve bank organization committee and named them, as follows:

Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Richmond, Atlanta, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Dallas and San Francisco.

The final announcement of the organization committee substitutes Cleveland for Cincinnati, and adds Kansas City to the list. Otherwise the Constitution's exclusive prediction was absolutely borne out. Ten out of twelve cities were correct.

Even in banking circles in the south the accuracy of The Constitution's news dispatch from Washington was questioned. It was felt that Atlanta, Richmond and Dallas could not all be successful. Also New Orleans was backed as a sure winner.

Today's announcement shows The Constitution's prediction was not based on moonshine, but on something more tangible.

ATLANTA CHOSEN FOR FEDERAL RESERVE BANK

Addition of New Orleans to Atlanta District a Surprise.
Senator Hoke Smith Tells of Fight for Atlanta.

PLEASED, BUT NOT SURPRISED.
SAYS CONGRESSMAN HOWARD

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, April 2.—(Special.)—Congressman William Schley Howard was highly excited when informed that Atlanta had won the fight for the federal reserve bank in Atlanta.

"Pleased, but not surprised," Congressman Howard stated. "The location of the regional reserve bank in Atlanta fixes her as the financial center of the southeast, to which section she has always been a gateway. Considering the showing Atlanta made before the regional bank committee and the many unanswerable facts presented in her behalf, the committee could hardly have failed to select the bank in Atlanta. The public-spirited citizens of Atlanta, who worked so zealously for months to obtain the bank, are to be congratulated on the splendid success they have achieved and for the notable work they have done for Georgia's metropolis."

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, April 2.—(Special.)—The inclusion of New Orleans in the Atlanta district was a surprise. If New Orleans was not made the headquarters of a bank there was an impression in some places that it would be added to the St. Louis district. Instead it is added to the Atlanta district.

Thirty-seven cities were contestants for the honor of having a reserve bank organized within their limits and bearing the name of the metropolis. The organization committee heard representatives from 205 cities during their swing around the country. Their task was not an easy one and the manner of pressure was brought to bear upon them.

Board That Awarded Banks.
The board was composed of William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury; David F. Houston, secretary of the St. Louis district; and John Skelton Williams, controller of the currency.

Senator Hoke Smith was as much gratified tonight at the success of the Georgia delegation. "So very much pleased," he said, "that I am proud to be one of the members of the Georgia delegation."

"I am very much pleased, of course," said Senator Smith when notified of the actual announcement by the organization committee.

"For a week past, however, I have felt from reports that the city had received that it was impossible for the organization committee to give Atlanta a bank."

Senator Smith believes that the financial and commercial importance of having the bank located in Atlanta was not an easy one and the manner of pressure was brought to bear upon them.

Brief Filed for Atlanta.
In the brief filed with the organization committee by Senator Smith, he said:

"The growth of this entire southern district has been phenomenal. Its development is more rapid than that of any other section of the United States, and it is more rapid than that of any other section of the United States, and it is more rapid than that of any other section of the United States."

DEATH RIDES GALE AND GATHERS TOLL FROM THE SEALERS

Caught in a Blizzard, Scores of Lives Are Lost—Men Lost Were Engaged in Killing the Seals.

CREWS ON THE FLOES
WHEN BLIZZARD BROKE

Newfoundland Lost Fifty of Her Crew and Others Were Maimed—Losses of Other Steamers Probably Heavy.

North Sydney, N. S., April 2.—Wireless messages received here tonight report the steamer Southern Cross safe at Channel, N. F. Her loss, with a crew of 170 men, had been feared.

St. John's, N. F., April 2.—Death traveled in a gale that overtook the sealing fleet Tuesday. The steamer Newfoundland lost probably fifty of her crew, while as many more, it is feared, will be maimed as a result of exposure. Alarm is felt for the steamer Southern Cross with a crew of 170 men, which has not been reported since she passed Cape Pine, bound in, Tuesday morning. The men lost were far from their ships killing seals when the storm, with blinding snow, swooped down. They were exposed for forty-eight hours before assistance arrived, and in that time many succumbed.

Crews on the Floes.
The Newfoundland was one of a fleet of fifteen ships, carrying more than 2,000 men, scattered among the ice floes near Belle Isle strait. The crews were on the floes hunting seals, and the hunt had taken them from four to six miles from their ships.

When the blizzard came the crews of other steamers managed to regain their vessels, but the floes on which the Newfoundland's men were hunting drifted away from the main body of ice and when darkness fell that night not one had returned. The ship's crew numbered 160 men, of whom 120 were on the floe. Captain Wesley Keen, his officers, engineers, stokers and cooks remained aboard.

The weather cleared today and Captain Keen straggled the steamers Bellavventura and Stephano of the loss of his men. These two vessels, being fast and powerful, smashed their way into the floes in search of the missing men. Late today the captain of the Bellavventura sent wireless messages here saying he had picked up thirty survivors and a number of bodies. He estimated that forty men had perished and said that thirty were unaccounted for.

Thirty-five Survivors Found.
A message from the Stephano tonight said thirty-five survivors had been found and three bodies, but there is doubt as to whether she referred only to those picked up by her. The wireless of the Bellavventura was working poorly and her messages were confused. The number of fatalities will not be known at least until she reaches here, probably tomorrow noon. At dusk another blizzard had sprung up, and there was little hope for any of the hunters who already had not been saved.

Added to the known disaster was a growing suspense regarding the Southern Cross. First reports of the loss of the men of the Newfoundland were confused and generally were accepted as referring to the Southern Cross, and it was not until late in the day that the identity of the crew was determined. Early information that the Newfoundland had been sunk by the ice proved untrue. Wireless messages describing the loss of the Bellavventura and the Stephano make no mention of the contrary. It is assumed that the ship still floats.

Ship Still Floats.
There is still some doubt as to how the vessel survived the storm, but as the latest messages from the Bellavventura and the Stephano make no mention of the contrary, it is assumed that the ship still floats.

Preparations are being made here to care for the dead and suffering. The Grenfell Seamen's Institute has been converted into an emergency hospital. The whole contingent of naval reservists on the drill ship Calypso has been ordered out for ambulance duty, and coffins are being hurriedly constructed.

Search for the Southern Cross was being made tonight with little encouragement. In addition to an unusually large crew, the ship had loaded heavily with 17,000 seals. Up to dark tonight she had not taken shelter in Trepassay or St. Mary's bays, on the southern coast, but it was thought here that she was heading before the gale for the Cape Breton shore. If disaster has befallen her, it will make the death toll of this storm the greatest in the maritime history of the island.

Sixty-four Known Dead.
Sixty-four members of the crew of the Newfoundland are known to have died. Thirty-three were recovered, according to a statement by Colonial Secretary Bennett, acting premier, late tonight. The steamer Bellavventura accounted for thirty-eight dead and thirty-five living. The Stephano for one dead and two living and the Floriole for five confirmed.

SENATORS ARE BALKING AT DANIELS' INFORMATION
Strong Objection to Putting
New Jersey Man on Commerce Commission.

Washington, April 2.—Confronted with the most serious nomination contest since President Wilson took office, the senate sat throughout today's session behind closed doors discussing the confirmation of Winthrop M. Daniels, a New Jersey man, as a member of the interstate commerce commission. A recent vote on the nomination of the interstate commerce commission, it would go out of business. Railroads were notified today that the company desired to abrogate its contract. If there is no count over this, the last of the agreement will be terminated on the date mentioned.

Democrats, however, consulted after the recess about modifying the unanimous consent agreement to vote on the confirmation, some proposing to supersede this agreement with one to vote on recommending the nomination. It was suggested, would avoid any possible embarrassment to the president, should the nomination be rejected. Friends of Mr. Daniels insisted, however, that he eventually would be confirmed.

Senators La Pollette and Cummings led the fight against the confirmation. Senator Martine, of Mr. Daniels' own state, was reported to have told the senate he had come to the conclusion confirmation would be a mistake. He added that personally he had the highest regard for Mr. Daniels.

Mr. Daniels' nomination as a member of the interstate commerce commission, as expressed in the Pacific gas rate case, is the basis of opposition. In this case, Daniels' nomination was opposed by Senator Wilson's public utilities act, Mr. Daniels' nomination was opposed by the public service commission he was too liberal in the selection of a man with sound valuation ideas was out that the interstate commerce commission was launching forth on a valuation of all the railroads of the country, and in a few years will be called on to value the gas companies.

Newlands conferred for an hour with President Wilson tonight about the Daniels appointment. They told him in detail about the advantages of the Daniels nomination. Both senators are favorable to it, and it is understood they sought information from the president who for many years has been an intimate friend of Mr. Daniels. They declined afterwards to talk about the conference.

UNION PACIFIC TO CUT
THAT $80,000,000 MELON
New York, April 2.—Supreme Court Justice Greenham today denied the petition of the Equitable Life Assurance society for an injunction to restrain the Union Pacific Railroad company from distributing a special dividend to holders of common stock $80,000,000 in cash and stock of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The Equitable sued to restrain the railroad company on the ground that the holders of preferred stock in the Union Pacific were entitled to share in the dividend or else have the $80,000,000 regarded as an asset and held by the road.

The Baltimore and Ohio stock was acquired by the Union Pacific from the Pennsylvania railroad in a deal whereby the Union Pacific released its Southern Pacific holdings as required by supreme court decree dissolving the Harbinger system.

It is understood that the Equitable will appeal from today's decision.

COXEY IS PREPARING TO MOBILIZE ARMY
New York, April 2.—Jacob S. Coxey, leader of the famous army which bore his name and marched on Washington in 1894, today established headquarters here. He said he would spend several days looking after plans for the mobilization of the New York wing of an army of 500,000 men which he intends to lead into the national capital sometime this month.

The main division of the army, he said, will leave Manhattan on April 16 and will be joined outside Washington by the eastern division.

Other registration officials told of finding 180 falsely registered names in the books of one ward.

SOUVENIRS TO BE SENT TO WASHINGTON HEIRS

Washington, April 2.—Souvenirs are to be sent by the government to George Washington's heirs as the only compensation for land that once belonged to the first president's estate in Ohio. The souvenirs consist of reports of hearings before the house public lands committee on the claims of Washington's descendants for the land which Washington acquired by military conquest. The committee could not find to other way of compensating the heirs except to authorize publication of additional reports of the hearings.

Express Company Quits.
New York, April 2.—The United States Express company today announced for ceasing its operations. Some time ago the company announced that, because of the parcel post and the reduced express rates fixed by the interstate commerce commission, it would go out of business. Railroads were notified today that the company desired to abrogate its contract. If there is no count over this, the last of the agreement will be terminated on the date mentioned.

Smart Crepe de Chine Blouses, $4.95
Instead of $5.75

The saving is remarkable in view of the style of the blouses and the demand for these soft crepes de chine.

But they were bought at a lower-than-valor price and so they will go to you. Several styles: here's one with a cut-in collar of embroidered batiste, a little vestee of batiste, the sleeves and the front panel show a row of hemstitching.

Another style has a small, flat sailor collar, of embroidered batiste, and the big mandarin sleeves that give the blousy effect that is so desirable.

Another style has a V-neck of ruffled Swiss, drop shoulder sleeves and front trimmed with bullet pearl buttons.

Choose from white, peach, mais and tango. And this is but one of the interesting bits of news of the waist section.

Other late arrivals are: A white crepe de chine blouse with Dresden flowers spread over it. It has a lily collar of white Swiss and long black moire tie. It is $5.75.

Many smart blouses of Georgette crepe are shown in colors to match suits in the high colors. Lazy waists by the score—we mean waists of silk allover laces over sheer chiffons and crepes—often the lace is of a shade contrasting with the chiffon or crepe.

The woman seeking the smartest Easter blouse will find it here.

The Frolaset Is the Ideal Front Laced Corset
And the ideal front laced corset in this day and time is, indeed, an ideal corset.

The great unattained and unattainable of most corsets and the great essential to the modish figure is the smooth, natural back and waist line.

If there is one feature of the Frolaset that recommends it to the women of today, it is just that—it imparts that smooth back, the natural waist line.

That it does is the result of smart corset designing.

The Frolaset people hit upon the scheme of putting an elastic back in their corsets that pulls the corset well down under the figure and imparts a grace that the average long corset of today never does. And this, together with the fact that it laces in front, makes it an ideal corset for the present styles.

There are models for every figure—the slender, the medium, the large. They are developed in coutils, batistes and, as prices mount, in exquisite broadened fabrics.

Prices go from $3.50 to $18.50.

One of the most favored models for the slight figure is "The Frolaset Tango." It is of batiste and elastic; it has no bust at all, in fact, were it fashioned for the full figure it might be called a hip confiner. It is priced at $8.00.

Cleanliness, Too, Begins at Home

Now the charitable thing to do in the spring cleaning-up is to provide those who have the dusting and polishing to do with the instrument that makes the work easy. One of the best we know of is

The O-Cedar Polish Mop
It Makes Dusting and Cleaning Easier, Quicker and Better

EASIER, because you do not have to get down on your hands and knees to dust, clean and polish a hardwood floor, or the stairs, or move heavy furniture to dust under it. Easier, because you do not have to stand on a chair to dust the moulding or the tops of doors or the tops of high furniture. No back-breaking rubbing whatever—simply run over anything lightly and it is entirely free from all germ-laden dust.

QUICKER, because you only have to go over the surface once to dust, clean and polish. One operation does it all.

BETTER, because the O-CEAR Polish gives a high, hard, durable finish, not a gummy, hazy bluish cast.

The mop is heavily padded to protect the furniture. It can be easily cleaned by washing and renewed by pouring a few drops of O-Cedar Polish on the mop. The new, quick detachable steel center enables even a child to remove and replace the pad in an instant.

Two sizes at $1.00 and $1.50.

The Polish—a vegetable compound—mixes freely with water and does not leave the gummy, sticky surface that a mineral polish does.

Bottles at 25c and 50c; Cans at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.50.

MEN OF THE NAVY RISK THEIR LIVES FOR OTHERS

Story of Heroism Told by Commander of the Collier Jupiter.

Washington, April 2.—Readiness of officers and enlisted men of the navy to risk their lives for others is strik-

"On March 16 last," the report says in part. "Ordinary Seamen Curtis, Frits and Anding went down in No. 13 hold of the Jupiter to coal the galley. Developments showed that poisonous gases had collected in this hold. Frits, finding himself getting faint, started to go back up the ladder, but hoisting line around. Frits and Curtis went back to the boat. Since the boat went below to bring up Frits. As soon as the latter had been removed Andler dropped the line. The boat was then hoisted back to the surface. Boatwain, Mate Letner then went down to put the line around Andler, but found he had fallen so far from the boat that he could not reach him. He then tried to drag him up, but was himself overboard. W. T. Shaw arrived at this time, went down to get the line around the unconscious men to the ladder, but found that the latter had fallen so far from the boat that he could not reach them. Then Tempton and Ordinary Seaman Ferguson then went into the hold to get the line around the unconscious men. Curtis went back into the hold to get the line around Letner.

When the executive officer arrived at the boat he saw that the men had a line thrown into the hold. He then went down to get the line. Shaw placed this line around Andler and Letner, and then went down to get the line to bend the line around Letner, but was overcome before he could finish. Then Tempton and Ordinary Seaman Ferguson finished it and Letner was hoisted up.

Ordinary Seamen Sales and Simpson

then went to the rescue and all were hauled to safety."

WILSON AND BRYAN ASSAILED IN HOUSE

Washington, April 2.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan were assailed in the house today by Representative Rogers, republican, of Massachusetts, with charges that they had

Mr. Rogers reviewed appointments to Latin-American countries, submitted biographical sketches of the men displaced and the new officials, and declared that in practically every case appointments were made without regard to fitness of candidates for their places. He also described contributions by various members of the diplomatic corps to the president's campaign fund.

FOR THE ADVANCE RAILWAYS COMMISSION

President Rea and Other Officials Tell Commerce Commission Question Is Serious.

Washington, April 2.—Testimony of return tickets in support of the application for a 5 per cent freight rate increase virtually was concluded before the Interstate Commerce Commission today by President Samuel Rea, of the Pennsylvania system. Beginning tomorrow lake and rail shippers will be heard in opposition to the increase. It is probable that all evidence for both sides will be completed within the next few days, and the commission is expected to render its decision within a month.

Presidents Willard, of the Baltimore and Ohio; Deland, of the Monon; Smith, of the New York Central; and Rea, of the Pennsylvania, will be recalled for cross-examination.

Mr. Rea's statement and discussion of the financial condition of the eastern railroads today related concretely to the Pennsylvania system, but he indicated that his observations and conclusions applied alike to all of the lines. He declared railroad returns had been decreasing continuously, and that unless the downward trend were arrested it would cripple their power to serve the public. He indicated that unless the roads were permitted to increase their net income, serious re-equipment would have to be made—a policy which he earnestly hoped would not be rescinded. He felt the public interest demanded that well-managed railroads should earn a reasonable return upon their efforts and their property.

Laying Off Employees.

Mr. Rea went on to say that only recently the Pennsylvania and some other lines had been obliged to curtail their operating expenses by laying off employees and reducing the number of trains operated, because of the falling off in freight tonnage and passenger traffic, which had induced a heavy decline in revenues. Mr. Rea was clearly distressed by the commission's action. In response to an inquiry by Commissioner Clark as to what had caused a net decrease in operating revenues in the eight months of the corresponding period of last year, the witness said:

"A falling off in tonnage and an increase of expenses of operation. The tonnage fell to higher wages adjusted in cost of freight operation. A few lines, limited hours of service, increased cost of fuel and general increase in cost of train operation. "It is regarded as sound policy," inquired Commissioner Clark, "to replace wooden with steel equipment?

"We so regard it," said Mr. Rea. "Although the initial expense of steel equipment is much greater, the capacity of the cars also is greater. The conversion, however, costs a great deal of money."

Profits of Railroads.

Mr. Johnson, counsel for the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie company, asked a series of questions designed to develop the railroad's profit in transporting coal and to ascertain whether the opinion of the witness, the proposed advance of 5 per cent, was warranted.

"In making our application for an increase of 5 per cent in rates," said Mr. Rea, "we regarded it as a fair return in which we might obtain an increase. The carriers have asked for a horizontal increase of 5 per cent. We cannot separate commodities. We deal and can deal only with averages. The fundamental question is whether we shall go ahead or go backward. We have asked for the increase and the answer must be given by the commission."

Mr. Brandeis asked about returns on passenger traffic.

"It probably is a fair conclusion," said the witness, "that there is a comparatively insignificant return on capital devoted to passenger traffic. It is always have felt that returns on passenger traffic were too small, but they are obliged to conform to state laws, which are controlling as to passenger fares."
